UK Lifts Out-State Restrictions

Registration Open
To All Applicants;
7,000 Fall Estimate

All restrictions on the number of out-of-state students who may attend the University have been lifted, and all applications for admission are now being accepted, Miss Maple Moors, assistant registrar, announced this week.

The rescinding of a policy which has been used during the back-to-school movement of returning servicemen, Miss Moors predicted, may increase fall quarter enrollment to more than 7,000 students, of which 25 per cent probably will be from other states. This compares with the 12 per cent of the total enrollment open to out-of-state students this year.

Miss Moors stated that it is too early to form definite estimates of summer and fall enrollment statistics, and that figures released at this time are broad approximations.

Outside Mail Heavy

A check of the correspondence in the registrar's office over a recent seven-day period showed 60 per cent of the mail to be coming from states other than Kentucky. This is an extraordinarily high figure, Miss Moors indicated, but it includes correspondence from students all over the country who are now in the process of "shopping" for a school to enter either this summer or fall. There are at present no plans to restrict again admissions from other states, but if it becomes necessary, the raising of standards of scholastic requirements may be required. At present, an out-of-state student with an advanced standing must present a "C" average to the registrar's office before being accepted for admission.

Beginning with the summer quarter, the enrollment fee for out-of-state students will be $75 per quarter as compared to the present figure of $57.50, she said.

Clark Speaks On Editors

By John Irvin

Terming the Southern country editor "the patron saint of the South," Dr. Thomas D. Clark delivered the annual arts and sciences lecture Wednesday night in Memorial hall on "The Country Editor and the New South." The UK history department head, recently selected as "Distinguished Professor of the Year," spoke on research work done while taking the leave, being chosen for the honor last January.

During the development of the South through the editorial pages of the weekly papers of the section, Dr. Clark stated that country papers "portrayed faithfully" the life and times of the period. The papers' vivid descriptions of frank and astute editorial opinion ranging from the chewing of gum by young girls in church to the need for better sidewalks to correct bowlegged ladies were mentioned in the address.

Editors Realized Need
Dr. Clark declared that the most realistic community problem after the war was the lack of good roads in the South. The editors realized that "economic shortcomings, even beyond the damnable political practice of demagoguery, held the region back," he stated.

Other campaigns which the southern editors led included movements for better schools and the employment of criminals in humane but non-competitive work which would be profitable to society.

In concluding, Dr. Clark again expressed tribute to "the country editor in the New South" and said that he was responsible for "what-ever progress resulted, and whatever attitude the southern common man adopted toward his community responsibilities as a citizen in a democratic society."

Helen Lipscomb Wins Music Contest

Helen Lipscomb, University graduate in music, won first prize in the Phi Mu Alpha state-wide musical composition contest, sponsored by the Alpha Gamma chapter of the Sinfonians, men's professional music society.

Contest winners were announced Tuesday after all entries had been judged. Two University of Louisville students took first prizes also.

Miss Lipscomb's prize winning entry was in Class C (vocal works) competition entitled "To The Water."

Jack Peierabend, Sinfonian president, said the date for awarding the trophies has not been set.

UK Gets More Huts

Three quonset huts, now located at the Veterans hospital in Lexington, have been given to the University by Federal Public Housing Administration, Frank Peterson, University Comptroller, has said. The location of the huts on the campus has not been decided he said.

Vet Club Not 'Broke,' Darrell Hancock Says

In reply to the "scare" that the Veterans club is "broke," Darrell Hancock, president of the club, said the organization had approximately $200 more than it had five months ago.

"Any member who wants to may inspect the treasury's records any time," he said. The money coming into the club is used largely for its current expenses.

Commerce Honor Society Takes Donovan, 10 Students

Dr. Herman L. Donovan, president of the University, has been elected an honorary member of Alpha chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, national commerce honor society, and 10 students of the University have been pledged to the local chapter.

Wendell E. Beals, associate professor of accounting and society president, announced recently.

Four graduate students, four graduating seniors and two third-quarter juniors named pledges are Alva Matherly, Central City; Mary Foreman, Georgetown; Earl K. Turner, Williamsburg; Powers Jones, Manchester; Richard L. Hinton, Goddard; Eli C. Hall, Beattyville; Patsy Bonney, Madisonville; C. B. Richardson, Bowling Green; William A. Tombs Jr., Louisville and William R. Meadows, Somerset.

Three additional members from the upper 10 per cent of the graduates will be named.

Construction Costs Originally Estimated Around $420,000

A contract has been awarded to Lexington architects for the preparation of plans and specifications for a proposed new Journalism-Publications building at the University, Frank D. Peterson, comptroller, announced yesterday.

Funds for the planning of the building proposed to house the Department of Journalism and the Kentucky Kernel were allotted the University last January by the Federal Works Agency. The $10,600 advance must be repaid to the government after funds are allotted for construction.

No Date Yet For Construction

Wayne W. Hafler and Robert W. McMeekin, associated architects, expect to complete the tentative plans within a year, it was announced, but no date has been set for the taking of bids or actual beginning of construction on the building originally estimated to cost $420,810.

The building is planned for a site on the main campus north of McVey hall, the basement of which now houses in 15 rooms all offices and classes of the Department of Journalism. Some of the rooms also are used by The Kernel, Kentucky Kernel Press, Kentucky Press Association, and other departments.

Graham Organized Department

The Department of Journalism at the University has been accredited by the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism since 1931. Organized in 1914 under the direction of the late Enoch Graham, it is one of the pioneers in journalistic instruction.

The department is one of the few in the South fully accredited by the national journalism education association, the only others being Louisiana State university, two schools in Georgia, and one in Virginia.

Dr. L. Niel Plummer, head of the department, has classed the proposed new building as "desperately needed for the expansion of our physical plant and academic curriculum."

College May Offer Six New Courses

Six new courses in applied mechanics and mechanical engineering will be offered students of the College of Engineering if recommendations of the college faculty to the University faculty are adopted. D. V. Terrell, dean of engineering, has announced.

At its last meeting, the faculty voted to add the following courses: mechanism, tool design, elements of engineering thermodynamics, advanced engineering thermodynamics, advanced fluid mechanics, and advanced heat transfer. A subject known as elements of heat-power engineering was dropped from the curriculum.

Commerce Honor Society Takes Donovan, 10 Students

Dr. Herman L. Donovan, president of the University, has been elected an honorary member of Alpha chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, national commerce honor society, and 10 students of the University have been pledged to the local chapter.

Wendell E. Beals, associate professor of accounting and society president, announced recently.

Four graduate students, four graduating seniors and two third-quarter juniors named pledges are Alva Matherly, Central City; Mary Foreman, Georgetown; Earl K. Turner, Williamsburg; Powers Jones, Manchester; Richard L. Hinton, Goddard; Eli C. Hall, Beattyville; Patsy Bonney, Madisonville; C. B. Richardson, Bowling Green; William A. Tombs Jr., Louisville and William R. Meadows, Somerset.

Three additional members from the upper 10 per cent of the graduates will be named.

Directory Supplement Ready For Publisher

A supplement to the present student directory was ready for printing this week. It will include the names of students that enrolled in the winter and spring quarters at the University, and the corrections that have been made concerning some names, phone numbers, and organizations that appear in the present directory, the SGA directory committee has announced.

Concert Set For Tonight

Five-Part Program Will Be Presented

A repeat performance of a five-part program of symphonic music will be presented by the University symphony orchestra in Memorial hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Alexander A. Capurso, head of the music department, has stated.

The original concert of the 65-piece symphony was given during the vocal-piano section of the 23rd annual Kentucky high school music festival April 24. Friday evening's concert also is scheduled to coincide with the attendance on the campus of outstanding high school musicians and their directors for the instrumental section of the traditional festival conducted under the auspices of the University extension and music departments.

Concert Open To Public

Dr. Capurso said it was for the convenience of the large number of students that the hour of the concert had been advanced to 7:30 p. m. Many will be hearing a full symphony orchestra for the first time. The concert will be open to the Bluegrass public as well as University faculty, students and the high school guests.

The second section of the 23rd annual Kentucky high school music festival began on the University campus yesterday with over 2,500 outstanding student musicians in attendance from an estimated 52 schools throughout the state. Prof. Louis Clifton, director of University extension, has announced.

Attended by more than 2,500 high school students and their teachers from approximately 70 state schools, the first part of the traditional festival was held at the University April 24-26 and consisted of competition in 14 different vocal events and two piano events.

Participants in the state festival are top-ranking student musicians selected following competition in regional elimination contests held early last month. The University extension and music departments act as joint-hosts to the pupils and their directors.

Events Open To The Public

Events of the second section of the festival Thursday through Saturday are competition among bands, orchestras, instrumental soloists, ensembles and small ensembles. Activities are scheduled to be held in the Student Union building, Memorial hall, Alumni gymnasium, and Lexington Henry Clay high school, and will be open to the public, Mr. Clifton said.

Because the festival is just returning to the pre-war level after a war-time period of combined instrumental and vocal events, there will be no marching demonstrations by bands, no organization of an all-state orchestra, and no sight-singing contests. However, it is hoped to renew these events and it may be possible next year, he added.

Three Sections Running

Beginning last evening, three sections of the program are being run simultaneously. String soloists, trios and quartets will be heard as well as ensembles in saxophone and clarinet ensembles. Today's sessions will be devoted to all other instrumental soloists and small ensembles. Bands and orchestra entries from 41 high schools will play tomorrow in the gymnasium. Memorial hall, and Henry Clay high school. Baton twirling and percussion instruments

Annual May Day Celebration Set For Tomorrow Afternoon

Kentuckian Slips Ready Next Week

Office To Be Open
Every Afternoon,
Harris Says

Mimeographed forms on which students may furnish their mailing address for the 1947 Kentuckian can be obtained in the basement hallway of McVey hall next week, Charles R. Harris, yearbook business manager, announced yesterday. Distribution of the yearbook is being made by mail because of a delay of several months in its publication.

The Kentuckian office will be open from 1 to 5 p. m., Monday through Friday afternoons, and students who reserved a copy last fall with a $2 deposit must pay the $2 balance due when the mailing address is presented at the office, he said.

Graduating seniors and students who made a $4 deposit will not be required to make any additional payment. However, they must complete a form showing their mailing address and seniors, fraternity and sorority groups, campus organizations, snapshots, Kentuckian Beauty Queen and attendants, and a number of other special features, he added.

Keys To Select Pledges At Party

Keys, sophomore men's leadership society, will entertain members, former members, and two representatives from each social fraternity and their dates with a river party tomorrow from 3 to 11:30 p. m. at Boonesboro beach, John Crockett, president, has announced.

New pledges of the honorary will be selected from the group of rushers invited. One outstanding sophomore from each fraternity will be chosen for membership; the other will serve as alternate. The scholarship requirement has been raised to 2.0, Crockett said.

Ted Beck, Bob Puryear, and Charles Whaley are in charge of arrangements. Chaperones will be Dr. and Mrs. M. M. White and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Anderson.

Grid Tilt To Be Scene Of 'K' Queen Coronation

By O. C. Halyard

Tonight's Blue and White game, last opportunity for Lexingtonians and students to see the 1947 Kentucky Wildcats in action under fire before their opener next fall, will bring together two as evenly matched teams as could trot on the gridiron.

Between halves of the game Miss "K" will be presented to the crowd by the "K" Club. She and her attendants will share a box on the fifty yard line for the scrap.

The game scheduled for 8 o'clock under the Stoll Field lights will be the second for the squad and, with the teams much more equally balanced than before and many of the freshmen wiser from experience gained in the Blues' 32-6 rout of the Whites last Thursday night, should rival in excitement and interest many lesser regular season contests.

Admission for the game will be $1.00 to townspeople and $.50 to students with all benefits going to the "K" Club, the organization of varsity lettermen on the campus.

Coach Bryant has named four seniors to act as co-captains in this last spring game for the many seniors on the squad. The White team will be led by veteran center Jay Rhodemyer, and fullback Bill Moseley. The Blue Pilots will be two linemen, Chick Sengel, and Leo Yarusis.

Coaches Frank Moseley and Joe Atkinson will handle the reins for the Whites, and Earnie Lassie, Mike Balistraris, and Ernie Allen will guide the Blues with Bryant taking a seat on the side to watch the overall action.

Coach Bryant's seasoned players will probably be the outstanding ones in tonight's game. However, freshmen like Dick Martin, Paul Jones, Len Kubiak, the B team brothers, and several others aren't to be overlooked. In fact if the game develops into the nip and tuck scrap that it promises to, then it may be some unsung freshman who marks the difference.

The probable starting line-up:

BLUE	Position	WHITE
35-Sengel	LE	38-Hensley
41-Perrell	LT	46-Serrin
24-Lair	LG	50-Preston
43-Balistraris	C	52-Rhodemyer
31-Yarusis	RC	27-Holway
34-Griffin	RT	37-Jones
46-Rounne	RE	38-Holmes
38-Blanda	QB	23-Holmes
2-Martin	LT	24-Phillips
24-Jacobs	RB	33-Henninger
30-Truman	FB	40-Moseley

Adjudicators for the instrumental section of the festival will include Gerald Doty, director of bands at the University of Indiana; Thomas Stone, of the College of Music, Cincinnati; Dixie E. Feighly, director of bands, University of Illinois; Jack Bryden, head of the music department, Transylvania college; and Hugh Gunderson, director of bands, Western State Teachers college, Bowling Green.

High Schools Represented

High schools which will be represented are: Anchorage, Ashland, Atherton, Barret Manual (Henderson), Beechwood, Bellevue, Berea academy, Bryan Station (Fayette county), Breckinridge Training (Morehead), Campbell county, Carrollton, Dixie, Feighly (Covington), Lafayette, Lancaster, Lloyd (Er-langer), Louisville Male, Ludlow, Lynch, Madison-Model (Richmond), Maysville, Middlesboro, Morton junior (Lexington), Mt. Sterling, Murray, Okolona, Ormsby Village (Anchorage), Pikeville Raceland, Shawnee, Shelbyville, Simon Kenton (Independence), Somerset, Southeast University school, Valley, Wallins, Williamsburg, Wilmore, and Winchester.

Senior Prom Being Revived; Wilber's Orchestra To Play

The SGA-sponsored "Senior Prom" will be held in the Bluegrass room of the Union building, Saturday, May 17, from 9 to 12 p. m., Martha Rich, social chairman, has announced.

Emphasizing that the dance is a revival of an old campus tradition, Miss Rich stated that seniors will be recognized with a special dance. Jimmy Wilber and his orchestra, who recently completed a run at the Lookout House, Covington, will furnish the music for the semi-formal affair.

Senior Tickets Are Free

Tickets will be issued free to all seniors at the ticket booth in the Union on Tuesday and Wednesday only from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Seniors who do not obtain their tickets on those days will be required to pay the usual price of $1.00 per ticket.

May Day Program To Be Presented By SuKy Circle

The University will hold its traditional May Day celebration tomorrow afternoon with a downtown parade of 31 student-sponsored floats, coronation of the May queen on Stoll field and climaxing tomorrow night with a semi-formal dance in the Bluegrass room of the Union building.

Sponsored by SuKy Circle, the parade will begin at 2 p. m. from the Administration building drive, with floats proceeding from Limestone to Maxwell, down Maxwell to Broadway, from Broadway down Main to Rose street, and climaxing at 3:30 p. m. on Stoll field where the May Queen coronation will be held and the May Day program presented.

SuKy requests that all floats be at the Administration building drive not later than 1:15 p. m.

Float themes will be fairly laborious for women's organizations and legends for men's organizations.

Dance from 9-12 p. m. Bob Bleidt and his orchestra will play for the dance where the May Queen and her attendants will lead the grand march and trophies will be awarded to the men's and women's organizations winning the float awards. Wrist corsages will be presented at the door to all women. The dance will be from 9-12 p. m. All tickets will be sold at the door and will be $1.75 per couple and $1.00 stag.

Clell De Spain Is IFC Head

The Interfraternity Council, which met Tuesday night, elected new officers. They include Clell De Spain, Phi Sigma Kappa, president; Bob Puryear, Phi Delta Theta, vice president; Fred Perkins, Alpha Tau Omega, secretary; and Hubert A. Bourne, Alpha Sigma Phi, treasurer.

In order to help pay the large medical bill for Jim Shackelford, Phi Kappa Tau, who suffered a severe brain concussion in an intramural boxing bout last month, it was decided that each fraternity man should contribute one dollar. All persons interested in doing so may contact Roger Thornton at Alpha Tau Omega house.

Shackelford is reported to be in good condition after undergoing three brain operations.

Plans are being made to transfer him from St. Joseph's hospital to the University Infirmary in the near future.

A campus rumor that the Phi Tau would be suspended on the campus if the medical bill was not paid by Friday was denied by Dean of Men T. T. Jones. He said, "University is going to pay the bill for the members' attitude and action in the matter."

Home Ec Club Elects President

Nora Lee Johnson, home economics junior from Hazard, was elected president of the Home Economics club at a recent meeting.

Other new officers include: Ann Dean, vice president; Eloise R. Barney, secretary; Dorothy Ray, treasurer; Anna Barney, publicity chairman; Hazel Jo Smith, song leader; and Eloise Eubank and Jean M. (freshman advisers).

Correction

In the list of pledges to Chi Delta Phi, women's literary recognition society, announced last week in The Kernel, the name of Mary Ellen Butler was omitted.

"BUGS BUNNY"

Sprowls Plants ATO Pin On Filmdom's Bugs Bunny

By Frances Jenkins Anderson

What's up doc? and since when have rabbits started going Greek? Well, mind you, not just any rabbit can make the grade, and up to now only the famous "Bugs Bunny" has attained this honor.

Here's how the "wittie wabbit" did it.

Once upon a time there was a commander of a field artillery battery (namely Claude Sprowls) who had the fortune of having a lad in his battery who was employed as a cartoonist with the Leon Schlesinger Productions, originators of "Bugs Bunny."

"Bugs" became the pin up boy of the battery, and before long, with the permission of Mr. Schlesinger of course, an original design of the "wabbit" was drawn by the cartoonist and was put on each of the batteries six field pieces.

Then the war was over, but Claude brought his love for "Bugs" back to the University and then into his fraternity, ATO. His next step toward making favorite pin up boy a fellow frat member was to get approval from Warner Brothers' Studios, which has taken over the Schlesinger Productions. This was done, and the lad who made the design for Claude's battery designed a new bunny.

But this design is different as you can see, for "Bugs" has now become an "active" Alpha Tau and is now sporting a big ATO pin.

Posto Scripto—Here's to lots more little ATO's.

Dean Denies Tuition Raise

Denying campus rumors that resident tuition will be doubled in the fall, Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, University vice president has announced that any change would be only a modest one and that he knows of no contemplated raise.

"We will admit any time that the fees are under constant scrutiny on account of the demands against the University, the economic situation, and tuition charged by other schools," Dr. Chamberlain said.

"The University resident fee is somewhat lower than that of other southern schools, and there would be some basis for a slight raise, however, there is no likelihood that any change will be made," he added.

Non-resident fees were raised some time ago, he said.

Included among the items destroyed were many wedding presents which the young couple received when they were married last September.

Foster, whose home is in Danville, is a sophomore in the College of Agriculture. He served with the Navy in the Pacific for approximately three years.

Men interested in this plan should come to his office immediately, he said.

All veterans whose family status has been changed should notify the office of the dean. Dean Jones stated that it would be advantageous to those reporting.

Wildcat Teams Collect Four Home Victories; Netters Win First, Golfers Still Undeclared

Track Team Awaits SEC Meet In 'Bama

By Winfield Leathers

Topping their opponents in every event, Kentucky's track and field performers took all 15 first places, 7 seconds plus one second place tie, and 6 thirds to record a stunning 104-27 victory Tuesday over the Berea college hurriers.

Leading the Wildcats in their top heavy victory was Jim Weber, six-foot, eight-inch field and cinderman from Pettisville, Ohio, who won the high and low hurdles, shot put and discus throw for 20 individual team points.

Points from this meet brought Wildcat Weber's scoring total to 96 points in five meets, since he won the same events in every other Kentucky match this year against TPI, Vanderbilt, Tennessee, and Georgetown. Weber's performance in the discus throw, he has been named twice in this event, once by Vukobek of TPI and once by Meseroll of Tennessee.

Next in line for individual laurels in the Berea meet was Kentucky's Don Depey Phelps, who scored 13 points for firsts in century and 220 dashes and a second in the broad jump, while Johnny Melhaus was third with 11 markers, collected with a first in the broad jump and second in Phelps in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Phelps' speedy performance of running the century in 09.7 only one tenth of a second off the school record of 9.6 will probably put him as the guy-to-beat in the forthcoming Southeastern Conference meet to be held in Birmingham, Alabama, May 16 and 17.

His Berea meet time is a tenth of a second faster than the 9.8 time it took Bill Martinson, of Baylor University, Waco, Texas, to win the 100-yard dash in the recent 38th Drake Relays, held in Des Moines, Iowa.

Hard back man on Coach Phil Hudson's Kentucky squad seems to be Anthony Dallas, second only to Weber among UK hurriers. Before Tuesday's Berea meet, he had finished second to Weber twice in each the high and low hurdle events of previous matches and against Berea Dallas again trailed Weber at the finish of both hurdle events.

But things almost turned out differently in the low hurdles, next-to-last event on the afternoon's agenda. Dallas got off to a slow start and trailed Weber to the fifth hurdle, when he passed him on the jump and took the lead. By the time the seventh barrier was reached, Dallas had picked up a two year lead and was still going away.

On leaving the seventh hurdle, Dallas' left foot hooked the top of it, upsetting it and sending himself sprawling on the cinders, and destroying his first real chance to beat his own teammate. He got up quickly and still reached the tape in time to grab third place among the five contestants.

Top candidate for traveling berth to the conference meet in Birmingham are Jim Weber, hurdles, shot put and discus throw, Tony Dallas, hurdles, "Dopey" Phelps and Johnny Melhaus, 100 and 220-yard dashes and the broad jump. George Kirchner, 440, and Bob Leisner, Moody and Grinnage, all milers. Coach Phil Hudson plans to leave with his thirties for Alabama on Thursday, May 15, at 6 p.m. They will travel the trip by a Pullman coach.

Baseball Crew Goes To Tennessee Today

By Tom Diskin

With the baseball season near the half-way mark, the Wildcat nine will tangle this afternoon in Knoxville, Tenn., with the UT Vols. Another game is on tap against Tennessee on Saturday.

The big Orange team of Knoxville has a record of four wins against two losses for this season. They have defeated Emory and Henry, Union, Tusculum and Vanderbilt and now have a three game winning streak. UK will take a mark of two victories and five losses into the game this afternoon.

Last week, the Cats collected both of their victories. After losing to Murray, 9-7, on a soggy, slippery diamond on Friday, the Wildcats took the first game of a double-header against Vanderbilt, 5-3; but in the finale, the Tennesseans came back to win 3-2.

On Wednesday, the weak Tigers from Georgetown were whipped by a score of 12-2 as Kentucky collected 15 hits off the Tiger's pitcher, Bridges. For UK, Hatchet was the winning pitcher although four Cat hurriers saw action. Beard collected his second home run of the season in the fourth inning.

Score by innings: R H E Georgetown 10 0 10 0 0 0 12 15 1 Kentucky 3 3 0 2 0 1 0 3 2 4 4

UK pitchers: Hatchet, Wild, Yankov and Hendricks; catchers, Butterman and Thomas.

GC pitcher: Bridges; catcher, Strickley.

Leo Yankov, guard, was chosen as one of the captains on the Blue team in the intra-squad grid game to be played tonight. Yankov, although hampered by a fractured wrist last season, was nominated for the North-South annual football game that was held in Montgomery, Ala.

UK Netters Meet Irish And Cincy

By Kent Hollingsworth

The UK tennis team soundly trounced Berea Academy last Tuesday by a score of 8 to 1. After Powers and Hines took the first set in the number three doubles, 6-0, it looked like the Wildcats would have a perfect day, but Berea rallied and won the match 6-6, 6-2, 6-2, for their only point.

Juan Balzola, Kentucky's number five man and Berea's Finney were the most evenly matched. Balzola finally winning, 7-5, 4-5, 9-7.

Other scores of the Berea contest: Dickerson, 6-1, 6-0; Asbury, 6-0, 6-0; Lander, 6-1, 6-2; Collins 1-6, 6-2, 6-2; and O. Tatum, 6-1, 6-3.

Kentucky's trip to Cincinnati last Friday might as well have been to Wimbledon. England. Cincy's galaxy of tennis stars toyed with UK's netters while emphatically defeating them 9-0. Every member of Cincinnati's team is listed among the just released Western ratings, their number five man listed as low as ninth.

A UK-UC return match is scheduled to be played here Monday. The clay courts here are expected to slow the Cincy boys down to within serving distance, as they have been playing so far, on live, cement courts.

Three consecutive sunny days and the Notre Dame match to be played there Saturday will certainly help the boys, so a hard fought contest and a good turnout of fans is expected.

Golfers Head South For Two SEC Meets

Traveling to Nashville for a return match with the University of Tennessee today, the University of Kentucky linksmen will be defending a record of nine wins and one tie, gained in ten states. Saturday, they continue their trek to Atlanta, Ga., to meet the Georgia Tech golfers in a return match.

A week ago yesterday, the UK golfers topped the Volunteers 14 1/2-3 1/2, on the local Country Club course to record their seventh victory. Wildcat Marvin Lear, slipping off his usual game, posted an 83, to suffer the only Kentucky setback.

Saturday, the UK shotmakers registered win No. 8 by defeating the Georgia Tech linksmen, 10 1/2-7 1/2. Wildcat Johnny Owens returned the sting of individual defeat to Yellow Jacket Ike Scott, who defeated Owens, 1 up, 20, in the finals of the fourth flight in the recent Southern Intercollegiate tournament, held in Atlanta, Ga.

Owens fired a 74 Saturday on the local greens to end up victorious over Scott.

In their latest outing, Tuesday, the Kentuckians continued their winning ways to rack up their ninth win, 22 1/2-4 1/2, at the expense of the University of Cincinnati. In swampy, hazy weather, Captain Owens and Marvin Lear shot a pair of 69's to lead the Wildcats' victory parade.

Next Wednesday, the Kentuckians are scheduled to meet the Xavier golfers, of Cincinnati, here.

In recent tests, both bounced consistently to the upper limits of USLTA rebound standards — another reason why these Spalding-made tennis balls are first choice of most tournament players. Sharpen up your game with one of the Twins of Championship Tennis.
